Class Comments

A challenging but enjoyable class of wines which reflect the unusual vintage. Like the vintage, they will mature quickly in most instances; indeed, many already have the depth and complexity of flavour of semillons two or three years older. The wines should have broad market appeal.

Class Comments

Good, strong class but quite a number of rather premature/slightly oxidized wines present. Other yeast derived problems also present.

Class Comments

Very strong class a testament to the exceptional quality of the 2005 vintage for Shiraz. Brettanomyces the downfall of some otherwise good wines.

Some nice wines but expecting better. Possibly reflecting a hot vintage. Disappointing to see so many prematurely developed and brettanomyces affected wines.

Class Comments

There was total unanimity between the judges on the golds, arrived at without discussion. The problem was to sort out the top wine, with wine 30 prevailing over wine 9 by the barest of margins, leaving wine 20 (which received six gold medals ie unanimous by associates as well) in third place. A challenging vintage mastered by many winemakers, phenolics on the one hand, dilution on the other being the main problems for the non-medal wines.

Class Comments

The two golds were beacons in a fairly dismal class. Oxidation, premature development and phenolics were the major issues (among many).

Class Comments

Not a particularly strong class but the award wines had varietal fruit and balance. A number of oily/alcoholic and/or sweet wines which lacked style.
